
World Day of Prayer for Vocations

In the U.S. and Canada there are more than 5200 parishes without priests!

Increasingly, priests are serving two, three or even more parishes.
Today," WORLD DAY OF PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS", 1.3 billion Catholics in 196 countries are all asked to pray for the same thing: "Lord, send us more priests, sisters, and brothers!"

Every year since 1963, the Holy Father has set aside the Fourth Sunday of Easter -- chosen because scripture readings are about the Good Shepherd—as a special day of intercession for vocations. What's your role today? To pray—really pray! Ask God, from the heart, to call young people from our parish, from your family. Perhaps even to call you.
Here are just a few ways to pray for vocations:

- Offer your Mass intentions for a specific young man or woman
- Pray a rosary for your children and grandchildren to hear God's call
- Pledge to pray daily for vocations

Jesus promised, "If you ask anything of Me in my name, I will do it" (Jn 14:13).

If Our Lord will grant the prayers of a single person, what if we all ask for the same thing?

If you feel you might have a vocation,
call Father Jarek at 407-647-3392 regarding the priesthood or Sister Kathleen at 407-246-4800 regarding the religious life?

ADVOCACY & SOCIAL JUSTICE

Learn More about Human Trafficking

Monday, April 25; 7:00-8:30 pm in the Bethany & Cana Rooms

This timely presentation on Human Trafficking is designed for adults, especially parents and grandparents. Human trafficking has become pervasive in Florida in the past decade. This presentation will focus on the children and youth and young adults from the US and other countries who are trafficked for sexual exploitation. You will be provided with information to increase awareness of possible victims as well as to contact information for agencies who can further assess the situation and provide assistance.

Coalition of Immokalee Workers News!

Just before Easter, the Coalition of Immokalee Workers, Whole Foods Market, and Sunripe Certified Brands announced their landmark expansion of the Fair Food Program into the strawberry industry and onto the shelves of select Whole Foods produce aisles. This season marks the first expansion of the Fair Food Program into a new crop — now, in addition to tens of thousands of farmworkers in the tomato industry on the East Coast, workers in the strawberry fields of Sunripe Certified Brands (which you may recognize by its former name, Pacific Tomato Growers, a grower with a long history of support for the Fair Food Program) are working under the just and dignified conditions that the Fair Food Program ensures. And soon, the strawberries they pick, affixed with the Fair Food label, will be filling grocery carts in Whole Foods around the country. This is truly a moment for celebration as strawberry workers in Florida taste the justice for which they have long struggled, and thousands more consumers gain the opportunity to learn about the Fair Food Program on their trip through the produce aisle.

We have babies of all sizes: 1 wears size 1; 2 wear size 2; 4 wear size 3; 11 wear size 4; 16 wear size 5; and, 11 wear size 6.
